Why we're the UK leader in bookshop systems

Designed with booksellers in mind BatchLine is easy to use, even by less-experienced staff.

Never lose a sale See Gardners price and availability and order electronically for fast delivery.

Industry links Order directly from UK publishers and sell or redeem National Book Tokens.

Flexible with fair pricing Manage your business for less than £10 a week for one installation.

Returns are easy Integration with the Batch Returns system keeps stock current, making your shelf space work harder.

Stocktaking View your stocktake and modify quantities, categories and location before processing it.

Loyalty and gift cards Reward customers with a fully integrated gift and loyalty card scheme.

Images and data Enjoy low-cost access to images and bibliographic data for transactional websites.

Key features

- Open Bravo is simple to use, creates itemised receipts and integrates with National Book Tokens
- enjoy comprehensive online title searches plus electronic ordering
- all sales are displayed in a list, making reordering quick and simple
- integration with Batch Payments makes sure you have the invoices before goods arrive
- deliveries can be scanned and automatically checked against electronic copies or those invoices can be imported and flagged as delivered
- returns are sent and processed electronically via Batch Returns
- use aged stock reports to compile lists and return stock
- produce bespoke customer invoices manually or automatically
- use the self-managed listing function for rolling stocktakes, loans, bulk orders and more
- benefit from automatic title categorisation
- no contract required!

Built for booksellers

- BatchLine works with BookScan and Edelweiss to promote the independent market.
- Order directly from Gardners, Macmillan, Hachette, PRH (including GBS) and HarperCollins with more UK and Irish suppliers to come.
- Managed by Batch – the technology arm of the Booksellers Association of the UK and Ireland – for the benefit of members.
- Our web exporter allows shops to synchronise their stock with ecommerce platforms – contact mail@batch.co.uk to find out more.

"We used Bertline for 20 years, and have been using BatchLine now since it took up the reins in April 2020. We have 30,000+ books of which about 28,000 are single titles: BatchLine handles our complex requirements wonderfully: adaptable, reliable, with an easy-to-use interface. Support is essential when we are so reliant on a system, and the BatchLine support is utterly superb: knowledgeable, constructive, patient and friendly."
